Passengers evacuated from Clapham Junction station – it has been CLOSED

Please be aware that passengers have been evacuated from Clapham Junction station - which has now been shut, due to the severe weather conditions.

The Met Office has issued a rare 'Red Weather Warning' for London today due to the expected impact of Storm Eunice.

This Red Warning indicates a risk to life as extremely strong winds are now expected in the capital, providing the potential for flying debris and damage to building.

The BID are aware of the falling debris from the roof at 126 St John's Hill – please avoid this area – both The Council and the Fire Brigade have been notified and are taking action.
